FORTIETH CONGRESS.

House Proceedings—Bill for Admission of Alabama Passed—Adjourned Till Monday.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, May 8, 1868.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Mr. STEWART presented a protest of the American Freedmen's League against the bill to aid the construction and employment of American built steamers for foreign mail service.

The Secretary of the Interior was asked for all correspondence as to the most improved method of irrigation of public lands.

Mr. HIGBY presented a memorial of the California Legislature, asking for aid for rail and wagon road purposes.

Mr. FLANDERS introduced a bill to aid the coast section of a railroad from Walla-Walla river to the Columbia. Referred.

Mr. BUTLER moved to expunge Mr. Robinson's resolution of yesterday from the journal, but the Speaker stating it had not been entered therein, not having been entertained as a question of privilege, he withdrew the motion.

On motion, the House agreed to adjourn to-day till Monday.

Private bills were next considered and several passed.

Mr. STEVENS, from the Reconstruction Committee, reported back the bill to admit Arkansas to representation in Congress.

After some discussion between Messrs. Eldridge, Stevens, Beck, Baker, Spalding, Boutwell and Robinson, as to the policy of delay until members could examine the Constitution adopted by Arkansas and the report of the Committee thereon, Mr. STEVENS moved the previous question. He then yielded part of his hour to close the debate to Messrs. Woodward, Beck and Pile, after which he spoke briefly in reply to the objections made by Messrs. Woodward and Beck to the bill. As to the objection from members on the other side that they were not prepared to vote on the question, he said if it were postponed for eternity, eternity would still find them unprepared. There had been a great clamor against his side of the house for keeping out these unreconstructed States, and now objection was made in letting them in.

Mr. ELDRIDGE moved to adjourn, but the House refused.

The bill then passed—Yeas, 110; Nays 32. Messrs. Baker, Loomis, Spaulding and Williams, (Pa.,) Republicans, voted no. The Speaker voted aye.

Mr. ROBISON moved to amend the title so to make it read, "a bill to keep Arkansas, an equal and independent State, out of the Union unless the people submit to despotism." Rejected.

The bill as passed has already been telegraphed.

Mr. SHANKS introduced a joint resolution to declare the officers elected in South Carolina to be the provisional government of that State. Referred to the Committee on Reconstruction.

Mr. PAINE, from the Reconstruction Committee, reported a bill to admit South Carolina to representation in Congress. Ordered to be printed and recommitted.

Mr. VAN WYCK, from Committee on Retrenchment, offered a resolution, reciting that the iron clads Oneota and Catawba had been recently sold to Swift & Co., and there was reason to believe they were to be sold and delivered to the Peruvian government, now at war with a friendly power, and requesting the President forthwith to order the seizure and detention of these vessels until the matter could be investigated by Congress.

Mr. WASHBURNE, Ill., reported a bill to supply deficiencies for the execution of the Reconstruction laws in the Third Military District for the year ending June 30th, 1868. Referrred to Committee of the Whole on the State of the Union, and made the special order for Monday.

The House at four o'clock went into Committee of the Whole on the State of the Union, Mr. Wilson, Iowa, in the Chair, and was addressed by Mr. COOKE on the policy of reconstruction, defending that of Congress and condemning the course of the President.

Adjourned.

METHODISM.

Quadrennial Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHICAGO, May 7.—Conference assembled at the usual hour.

The Corresponding Secretary of the Tract Society submitted a report, showing the total receipts of the four years to be $53,-853.89; disbursements $49,220.41; number of pages of traces printed during the four years, 33,858,000.

The report of the Sunday School Union shows the receipts for four years $78,401.54; disbursements, $87,101.06; total number of Sunday Schools, last enumeration, 15,292; officers and teachers, 171,695; scholars, 1,089,525; conversions reported during the four years, 119,428.

Dr. Hitchcock moved that the subject under discussion yesterday, the admission of Southern delegates, be taken up. Adopted.

Rev. Geo. Peck, D. D., of New York, addressed the Conference. He agreed with Dr. Curry on the point that the Mission Conferences had no right of representation according to the law of the Church, and gave a history of the legislation which originated the Liberia Mission Conference, in 1836, showing that the influence of Southern delegates in the General Conference of that year had caused the insertion of the prohibition. He argued, however, that the Bishops had been authorized to organize regular conferences in the Southern States, and that they had done so in the manner usual in such cases from the beginning. Dr. Peck went on to show that in former years, and in the intervals of the General Conference, the Bishops had organized annual conferences, even without an enabling act, and that these bodies had elected delegates to the General Conference, and had been cordially received.

Dr. E. O. Haven took the floor and spoke for an hour endeavoring to show by the record that no legal barrier is in the way of their admission.

At the close of his address Dr. Baker, of Pittsburgh Conference, moved the previous question. Not seconded.

Dr. Crary, of St. Louis, then obtained the floor and addressed the Conference on behalf of the Southern claimants. He confined himself mainly to the constitutional aspects of the case, showing that no legislation of this body could be invalidated by the admission of the claimants.

Dr. Nelson, of Wyoming, offered a resolution designed to equalize the time of speakers on both sides. The resolution called forth an animated debate, which was carried on amid a good deal of confusion. The resolution was finally adopted, after which the Conference adjourned to meet to-morrow.

SANDWICH ISLANDS.

Terrible Volcanic Eruptions—Innumerable Earthquakes—Great Destruction of Life and Property—Most Extraordinary Phenomena.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 7.—The bark Comet, from Sandwich Islands, brings accounts of a terrible volcanic eruption. Mauna Loa began demonstrations March 27th, and on the 28th over one hundred earthquake shocks were felt. Nilina followed, and during the two weeks following, to April 13th, two thousand earthquake shocks occurred at Wachina. The earth opened in many places and a tidal wave, sixty feet high over the tops of cocoa trees, came a quarter of a mile inland, sweeping human beings, houses and everything movable before it. A terrible shock prostrated the church and houses killing many. In all one hundred lives were lost, besides thousands of horses and cattle. The craters vomited fire, rocks and lava. A river of red hot lava five or six miles long flowed to the sea at the rate of ten miles an hour, destroying everything before it and forming an Island in the sea. A new crater two miles wide opened and threw rocks and streams of fire a thousand feet high. Streams of lava rolled to the sea, at one time illuminating an extent of fifty miles at night. Lava has pushed out from shore one mile, at Wachina. Three miles from shore a conical island rose suddenly, emitting a column of steam and smoke while the Kono packet was passing, spattering mud on the vessel. The greatest shock occurred April 2d. Prior to the eruption there was a great shower of ashes and pumice. During the great shock the swaying motion of the earth was dreadful. No person could stand. In the midst of this tremendous shock an eruption of red earth poured down the mountain, rushing across the plain three miles in three minutes, and then ceased. Then came the great tidal wave, and then the streams of lava. The villages on the shore were all destroyed by this wave. The earth opened under the sea and reddened the water. The earth eruptions swallowed thirty persons and the sea many more. Great suffering and terror prevailed in the whole region affected. A sloop had been despatched with provisions, etc., to rescue and relieve.

Honolulu correspondence of the Bulletin gives details of the volcanic disturbances, showing that earthquake shocks extended to all the Islands of the Hawaiian groupe, but no damage is known except around Mauna Loa. Numerous land slides, accompanied by other phenomena, occurred, destroying life and property. The summit and side of a hill fifteen hundred feet high was thrown a thousand feet over the tops of trees and landed in the valley below. The gasses that issued destroyed vegetable and mineral life. Bottomless fissures opened in the mountain sides. One lava stream flowed under the ground breaking out in four jets six miles from the sea and throwing lava and stones one thousand or fifteen hundred feet high. The new island thrown up is four hundred feet high and is now joined to the main land by a stream of lava a mile wide. A large stream of water has burst from the mountain where earth eruptions occurred. The base of the volcano, about three hundred miles in circumference, is desolated. At least half a million of property has been destroyed.

The King of the Sandwich Islands had issued a proclamation for the relief of the sufferers. Many visitors had gone from Honolulu and will go from San Francisco. The worst is thought to be over, but the lava flow continues a grand spectacle.

—Rumor says the New York Revenue Collector and his Deputy released ten rectifying houses, which had been seized for selling illicit whiskey and running stills, in consequence of the receipt of heavy bribes. The case of England and others, arrested for running a distillery by Colonel Porter, of the Internal Revenue force, has resulted in their discharge, Commissioner Osborn deciding that England was in the employ of the United States Marshal, who had charge of the distillery, and Porter was a trespasser.

—A dispatch from Havana says that the Spanish man-of-war Blasco De Garey is said to be watching the American bark Alice Ball, at St. Thomas, with orders to sink or take her at all hazards when she leaves the port, irrespective of the presence of American ships-of-war.

[Information has been already received that the Alice Ball, which was laden with munitions of war for the Peruvian Government, has sailed for her destination.—ED.]

The Florida Election—Medical Convention Adjourned—Protest from South Carolina.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.

WASHINGTON, May 8, 1868.

FLORIDA ELECTION.

General Schenck received a dispatch this afternoon from Florida, stating that the Constitution had been adopted and that the Legislature is Republican.

A PROTEST FROM SOUTH CAROLINA.

Col. J. P. Thomas, J. B. Gibbs, and Col. L. D. Childs, representing the State Central Executive Committee of the Democratic party of South Carolina, came hither to present to Congress a remonstrance on the part of the white people of South Carolina against the Constitution recently adopted by the Reconstruction Convention. To-day the Committee appeared before the Reconstruction Committee of the House. Mr. Stevens received them with courtesy. Colonel Thomas, Chairman of the Committee, remarked that in analyzing the proposition of the Constitution for South Carolina there were two objections which stood out in bold relief—unqualified negro suffrage and the taxation power. He argued to show them disastrous upon both races. The constitution established taxation with representation. Those who have no property are to tax those who have all the property. Under the constitution $3,000,000 might be raised in way of taxes, $1,000,000 of which for educational purposes, and yet these advantages were to be enjoyed by blacks alone, as the white children would not attend black schools. The State heretofore, in its most prosperous days, had not been able to bear a tax of more than from three to four hundred thousand dollars annually. Col. Thomas, in conclusion, said he felt it to be his duty to state to the Committee that while the whites are willing to concede to the negroes all of their civil rights, and a qualified suffrage, yet the white race would never acquiesce in negro rule. You may make us pass, he said, under the yoke, and we shall have to do so, but, by every means which God and Congress have left us under the Constitution and laws, we will resist this domination of an inferior race. By peaceful means, by political efforts, by industrial efforts, we will carry on this political contest until we gain control, which of right belongs to the power of mind. Nor, said Col. Thomas, can you have prosperity in the South under your reconstruction scheme; but give the South a fair showing, restore the States to the Union on a joint basis, and again will our people return with willing hearts to the Union, and that same energy, that same self-sacrifice, the same valor which they gave to the "lost cause," will they give to the Union, provided you meet them in a spirit of magnanimity and concede to them the rights to which they deem themselves entitled.

Christian Dressmakers and Wearers.

[From the New Haven Journal.]

A society of ladies, of the very highest rank, has been formed in Paris to correct some of the evils of modern fashionable attire. For some time past, as the skirts of dresses have increased in length the upper portions have diminished, till a lady in full dress resembles in the exhibition of her charms—we do not, of course, suppose in morals also—the frail beauties of the time of Charles the Second, as depicted by Sir Peter Lely. This abuse, the society to which we refer, is determined to correct. They call themselves "Christian Women," and each member, on joining, signs this declaration: "I engage henceforth never to appear decollete." They also promise not to employ any dressmaker who will make robes in the objectionable fashion, while those who will confine their labors to the fabrication of modest attire are to be termed "Christian dressmakers." As French women are credited—generally by those who know nothing about them—with not being overscrupulous in the display of their charms, it is only fair to say that the art of undressing their shoulders is copied from their English sisters, who have long been famous for it. A good story is told of a professor who, some years ago, when visiting England, called upon the Duchess of Sutherland, then one of the most beautiful women of the day. He was conducted by a footman to her boudoir, and on entering the room found the lady dressed for dinner. The lavash display of her charms so astonished the good man, unaccustomed to the ways of fashionable society, that he supposed the servant had made a mistake and shown him into the lady's dressing room before she had completed her toilet. As he started back in modest confusion, the lady, a noble woman in every sense of the word, perceived the cause of his embarrassment, and with a magnificent gesture drew up her shawl and covering the finest shoulders in Europe, restored the Professor's equanimity. Modesdy in dress is after all very much an affair of custom, and varies in different countries and times, but there is undoubtedly room for reformation to-day, and we wish the new society every prosperity. If some strong minded sisterhood will forgive us for saying so, we cannot help thinking that old St. Paul had some very correct ideas on the subject.

About Army Horses.

A contributor to the Independent writes: "I used to admire the horses in the army. Well-trained cavelry horses would always understand the bugle, and never make mistakes. The men were sometimes confused, and would rein the horses the wrong way. I have seen horses rear straight up rather than obey the rein against the bugle. Turn the horses loose without riders, and at the sound of the bugle they would form themselves into line and go through their parade.

At the battle near Corinth I watched the artillery horses. They came in on a swift run, drawing a thirty-two pounder; and on the instant the signal was given, they wheeled, the piece was unlimbered in a moment, and then at another signal, they were away again on a run. The gun was in good position and did good execution. But the rebels flanked us, and we were compelled to leave the gun and fall back eighty rods. There we reformed in good order, and with fixed bayonets charged back upon the rebels. They were in disorder and fled. We took the gun again; but knowing that we could not long hold the ground, our object was to bring off the gun. So we opened right and left and the bugle sounded for the horses. They came dashing up again on the run till they reached the gun; they wheeled, waited a moment to be hitched, and then whirled it away in no time and saved it. I stood there, though the bullets were whizzing around me, and looked in perfect admiration at those horses.

Had they no riders to guide them?

Yes, but they obeyed the bugle. Their riders could not control them.

Eating when Exhausted.

When the strength or nerve power is already worn out, or used up, the digestion of food only makes a fresh demand upon it, and if it be unable to meet the demand, the food is only a burden upon it, producing mischief. Our bodies have been compared to steam engines, the food being the fuel, and the steam produced the nerve power. The analogy holds good to a certain extent. If, when the steam is low because the fire is low, you pile in too fast a quantity of coal, you put out your fire, and if you have depended upon steam power to fan your fires, that is also extinguished. Beyond this the comparison fails. You may clean out your furnaces, and begin again, but in the body the consequences of this overloading are dangerous and sometimes fatal. No cause of cholera is more common than eating freely when exhausted. The rule should be to rest for a time, and take some simple refreshment, a cup or part of a cup of tea, a little broth, or even a piece of bread, anything simple and in small amount, just to stimulate the stomach slightly, and begin to restore its power. After rest, a moderate quantity will be refreshing. Never eat a full meal when you are exhausted. Take first a small quantity of anything simple which may be handy, and rest. Then, after a time, proper food will be a blessing, not a burden. The fires will burn, the steam will be up, and you can go on your way safely. It is not amiss in this connection to say, that children would avoid many a feverish night, and many an attack of disease, if mothers would follow this rule.—Observer.

Fashionable Modesty.

Considering the follies which are put forth in Le Follet, we rarely find much pleasure in the news which comes from Paris in the matter of the fashions. Here, however, is a statement which most thoroughly delights us: "The dress is not worn so low as last year, either on the back or front." It sadly lowers one's opinion of the sense of the fair sex to consider that with many women modesty is nowadays a matter of mere fashion. For many a month past dresses have been worn so low as barely to be decent. Ladies who of late have been modestly attired could lay no claim whatever to being in the fashion. Decency, however, is once more to be the mode, and, as few ladies have the courage to disobey their dressmakers, we may hope that for a while, until the fashion changes, we may be able to dine out, and even go to dances, without blushing for our partners.—Punch.

AT the last concert at the Tuileries, one of the Empress's shoes came off, and in trying to recover its possession, the other shoe came off. The Emperor was obliged to stoop and put them on. He should have got shoes to it by this time.

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

THE LAND BEYOND THE SEA.

[Following are the words of the charming ballad recently published, from the gifted pen of James M. Macrum, Esq., of this city. The music to which they are set is taken from Donizetti's "Torquato Tasso," and is arranged by Mr. W. H. Everson, of Everson, Preston & Co., Pennsylvania Forge, Pittsburgh. The latter fact is a high commentary on the cultivation and refinement of our manufacturing classes, as Mr. Everson is equally at home either at the Avernus-like furnace or the church organ and parlor piano:]

Once music flash'd by look and word
To love, when love was young!
But who can tune again the chord
By Time's cold hand unstrung?

By Time's cold hand unstrung, ere long,
Love's harp would silent be,
But mem'ry sings love, many a song
Of a land beyond the sea.

One of the thousand dreams that came
When I was yet a boy;
Ev'n one, if it were still the same,
Would make me weep for joy.

T'would make we weep for joy, in sooth,
For mem'rys magic wand
Points to the roseate hours of youth
And the glowing morning land.

Oh! sweetest spirit! Oh, youthful love,
With thee I cannot part;
Still lead me to thy golden grove,
Imparadise my heart!

Imparadise my heart amidst
Thy wonder scenes once more;
Bring dreams and fancies as thou did'st
In the days and nights of yore.

Sweet, yet half sad, in a minor key,
She sings of youth's warm prime:
Oh! to live one hour of that
Would be worth an age of lifeless time.

Worth an age of lifeless time which wrongs
The heart, and hope, and me!
Thus love and mem'ry sing their songs
Of the land beyond the sea.

THE FROZEN SHIP.

One serene evening in the middle of August, 1775, Captain Warrens, the master of the ship "Greenland," whale ship, found himself becalmed among an immense number of icebergs, in about seventy degrees of north latitude. On one side, and within a mile of his vessel, these were of immense height and closely wedged together; and a succession of snow covered peaks appeared behind each other as far as the eye could each showing that the ocean was completely blocked up in that quarter, and that it had probably been so for a long period of time.

Captain Warrens did not feel satisfied with his situation, but, there being no wind, he could not move either one way or the other, and he therefore kept a strict watch, knowing that he would be safe as long as the icebergs continued in their respective places.

About midnight the wind rose to a gale, accompanied by thick showers of snow, while a succession of thundering, grinding and crashing noises gave fearful evidence that the ice was in motion. The vessel received violent shocks every moment, for the haziness of the atmosphere prevented those on board from discovering in what direction the open water lay, or if there actually was any at all on either side of them. The night was spent in tacking as often as cause of danger presented itself; and in the morning the storm abated, and Captain Warrens found to his great joy that his ship had not sustained any serious injury. He remarked with surprise that the accumulated icebergs, which had on the previous evening formed an impenetrable barrier, had been separated and disarranged by the wind, and that in one place a canal of open sea wound its course among them as far as the eye could discern.

It was two miles beyond the entrance of this canal that a ship made its appearauce about noon to the great astonishment of the crew of the "Greenland." The sun shone brightly at the time, and a gentle breeze blew from the north. At first some intervening icebergs prevented Captain Warrens from distinctly seeing anything but her masts; but he was struck with the strange manner in which her sails were disposed, and with the dismantled aspect of her yards and rigging. She continued to go before the wind for a few furlongs, and then grounding upon the low icebergs, remained motionless.

Captain Warrens' curiosity was so much excited that he immediately leaped into his boat with several seamen and rowed toward her. On approaching he observed that her hull was miserably weatherbeaten, and not a soul appeared on deck, which was covered with snow to a considerable depth.

He hailed her crew several times, but no answer was returned. Previous to stepping on board an open port-hole near the main chains caught his eye, and on looking into it he perceived a man reclining back in a chair, with writing materials on a table before him, but the feebleness of the light made everything very indistinct. The party went upon deck, and having removed the hatchway, which they found closed, they descended to the cabin. They first came to the apartment which Captain Warrens viewed through the port-hole. A tremor seized him as he entered it. Its inmate retained his former position and seemed to be insensible to strangers. He was found to be a corpse, and a green, damp mold had covered his cheeks and forehead and veiled his open eyeballs. He had a pen in his hand, and a log-book lay before him, the last sentence in whose unfinished page ran thus:

"Nov. 14, 1762.—We have now been enclosed in the ice seventeen days. The fire went out yesterday morning, and our master has been trying ever since to kindle it again without success. His wife died this morning. There is no relief."

Captain Warrens and his seamen hurried from the spot without saying a word. On entering the principle cabin the first object that attracted their attention was the dead body of a female reclining on a bed in an attitude of deep interest and attention. Her countenance retained the freshness of life, but a contraction of the limbs showed that her form was inanimate.

Seated on the floor was the corpse of an apparently young man, holding a steel in one hand and a flint in the other, as if in the act of striking fire upon some tinder which lay beside him. In the fore part of the vessel several sailors were found lying dead in their berths, and the body of a boy was seen crouched at the bottom of the gangway stairs.

Neither provision nor fuel could be discovered; but Captain Warrens was prevented, by the superstitious prejudices of his seamen, from examining the vessel as minutely as he wished to have done. He therefore carried away the log-book already mentioned, returned to his own ship, and immediately steered to the southward, deeply impressed with the awful example which he had just witnessed of the danger of navigating the Polar seas in high northern latitudes.

On returning to England he made various inquiries respecting vessels that had disappeared in an unknown way, and by comparing the results of those with the information which was afforded by the written documents in his possession, he ascertained the name and history of the imprisoned ship and of her unfortunate master, and found that she had been frozen thirteen years previous to the time of his discovering her among the ice.

A New Dog Story.

Our last anecdote is only a twelvemonth old. Monsieur de S—— and Monsieur P——, country gentlemen, residing in the neighborhood of Bordeaux, are great sportsmen and great friends. The first has two dogs, and the latter only one; and as dogs soon fall into their master's ways, they also are intimate acquaintances and passionately addicted to the chase. One day they came to the understanding that they would have a little hunt all to themselves, for their own particular pleasure and profit. They started a wild rabbit, which ran to its burrow, as the most prudential move it could make. One of M. de S——'s dogs followed it so far that he could not get out again. There he remained sticking in the hole, unable to move either backwards or forwards. After scratching in vain to get him out, his two companions returned home overwhelmed with grief. They were depressed in spirits, dead beat with fatigue; perhaps also their consciences pricked them a little. Their masters remarked their wretched plight, but had no means for accounting for it. The next day the dogs disappeared afresh. At night each returned to his respective domicil, worn out, with bleeding feet, their coats covered with earth and completely off their appetite. The same thing continued day after day. M. de S——, uneasy at the absence of his first dog, and surprised at the strange proceedings of the second, mentioned the matter to his neighbor P——, who then told him that his own dog had been doing exactly the same. Early next morning M. de S—— was awoke by several dogs moaning and scratching at his door. On going down stairs to ascertain the cause, he was astonished to behold the missing dog escorted home by his two companions, but weak, emaciated and reduced almost to a skeleton. Suspecting what might have happened, he caused search to be made, and soon discovered the rabbit's burrow, in which the poor creature had been imprisoned for six whole days. The narrow mouth of the burrow had been transformed into an open cave, evidently owing to the intelligent labors of the two dogs that remained at liberty.—London Society.

Domestic Happiness.

While traveling, a few years since, I was detained some days in one of our western cities. My room overlooked a lane or alley way, in which were several houses occupied by the better class of artisans, and I became much interested in one of these, so much that no sooner did I hear a glad shout from the little voices than I knew it was meal time, and "Daddy was coming," and I took up my point of observation in harmless and admiring scrutiny of the well governed house. On the way in the father raised the rejoicing child in his arms and gave it two or three resounding smacks; another one had crept to the door-sill, and this was lifted also, and its little cheek laid tenderly upon the shoulder, which was hunched up to bring it close to that of the father's. By this time the wife had brought a bowl of water, and a white, coarse towel, then she took the children down, applying also sundry pats, now on the shoulders of the little ones, and now on the broad, fatherly ones; and while the husband gave a last rub of the hard, rough hands, he stretched out his neck and kissed the pretty, girlish wife, who would be hovering near him. They said grace, they dined at the plain, wholesome board, and more than once I found myself wafting them a bedediction with tears in my eyes. It is so brutish to pass without a word of recognition of the Great Giver. The husband was a grave man, and the wife a lively, cheery one, neat as a new pin, and very chatty. I thought them wonderfully well matched, for there was no moroseness in the man nor levity in the woman, and when Sunday came and the little household, dressed in all its finery, baby and all, went out to church, it was a sight to behold.—Mrs. E. Oakes Smith.

How the Parson got Excited.

A few years since, near the city of F——, in Connecticut, lived and preached old Parson P., who was excitable and near-sighted. One day he had been to the city with his horse, and among his purchases was a barrel of flour, the head of which was partially out.

On the way home the old man was overtaken and passed by a fast young man, driving a horse and putting on much airs. Now, the parson's horse was usually a quiet, steady going animal enough, but he couldn't stand that sort of thing; so he started after him of the first order in good earnest

The jolting of the wagon at length jarred the head completely off the barrel, and the strong wind that was blowing directly after the parson blew the flour all over him and the horse. At last the fast young man was left, and the village reached; but the speed of his horse was not checked.

In driving through a street to reach his home, he came in contact with one of his deacons, who was naturally surprised to see his minister driving at such pace, and signaled him to stop.

"Why, Parson P——," said he, "what on earth is the matter? You seem greatly excited!"

"Excited!" yelled the old man, "excited! Who wouldn't be excited? Snow storm in July! Get up Dobbin!"

The deacon smiled, but was silent.

POWER OF A HORSE'S SCENT.—There is one perception that a horse possesses to which little attention has been paid, and that is the power of scent. With some horses it is acute, as with the dog; and for the benefit of those who have to drive at night, such as physicians and others, this knowledge is invaluable. I never knew it to fail, and I have ridden hundreds of miles on dark nights, and in consideration of this power of scent this is my simple advice: Never check your horse at night, but give him a free head, and you may rest assured that he will never get off the road, and will carry you expeditiously and safe. In regard to the power of scent in a horse, I once knew one of a pair that was stolen, and recovered mainly by the track being made out by its mate, and that after he had been absent six or eight hours.—Tait.

REMARKABLE DISCOVERY OF AMBER.—The little fishing village of Schwarzort, situated on the shores of the Baltic, between Memel and Danzic, about two leagues to the south of the former place, has within the last three years acquired a certain importance, owing to the discovery of a large bed of amber. This bed is situated near the Cape Korning, and is believed to be extensive. Four steam dredges are employed for the collection of the amber, as well as a considerable number ot dredges worked by hand. The amber is found almost uniformly in separate nodules, with lignite, disseminated in the sands at a depth of from ten to twelve feet. The quantity of amber collected is considerable. The sand is sent on shore, when it is washed, in order to find the amber.

—England's timber navy having become useless on account of the iron vessels of war, the present British government is selling out the "wooden walls." We have no doubt that a cash buyer could secure the "heart of oak" at a very small price.

RIVER NEWS.

Both rivers appeared to be at a stand last evening, with twelve feet three inches in the Monongahela and twelve feet eight inches in the Allegheny. A telegram from Oil City reports five feet at that point and at a stand. The weather continues cloudy and unsettled with indications of more rain.

The St. Charles arrived about nine o'clock on Thursday evening, and cleared again last night. She had an excellent trip up and took out a moderate freight list.

The Robert Moore, from Portsmouth, arrived, as did also the Ingomar, from Wheeling, and Bayard, from Parkersburg.

The Grey Eagle, Capt. Drennan, is the regular packet for Parkersburg to-day, leaving promptly at noon.

The Argosy, Capt. Vandergrift, with Mr. W. H. Scott in the office, is the regular packet for Cincinnati to-day, leaving promptly at 5 p. m.

The Ida Rees, Capt. Rees Rees, will leave for Oil City this afternoon at four o'clock.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—Having completed some necessary repairs, the Argosy will positively leave for Cincinnati this evening at five o'clock. Shippers will please send down their bills of lading as soon as possible. L. VANDERGRIFT, Master.

The following coal boats will leave this morning:

FOR LOUISVILLE.

J. A. Blackmore, 4 barges, 2 boats	84,000
Jacob Painter, 6 barges	70,000
J. T. Dravo, 3 boats, 2 barges	80,000
	234,000
FOR CINCINNATI.
Whale, 11 barges	132,000
	366,000

The landing was entirely clear of tow boats yesterday, and there was but one in sight, and it was lying on the South side of the river, waiting, doubtless, for a tow. All the down river cities are certainly pretty well supplied with coal by this time, as there has been an abundance of water for the coal fleet nearly all the time since the opening of navigation.

The following boats were in port last evening: Argosy, Armenia, Kate Putnam, Silver Cloud No. 2, Emma No. 3, Armadillo. Kenton, R. C. Gray, Messenger, New State, St. Charles and Camelia.

A St. Louis telegram, under date of Wednesday, says: River stationary here, and also at Dubuque and Keokuk. The upper Missouri is reported on a stand at St. Joe and Omaha yesterday. Whether we are to have very high water this season depends almost entirely upon what sort of a June swell there will be in the Missouri. Business on the wharf is brisk. Freight continues offering to boats on the upper rivers in liberal quantities, with an excellent prospect throughout the future. There are cheering accounts of the crops in the northwest. The Northern Line steamer Savanna took to St. Paul the largest cargo of the season, 8,190 packages. The Importer left for the mountains last night. Silver Lake and Bridgeport leave to-morrow. The Wauanita is loading for Cincinnati. She refused a load for the upper Missouri. The Maggie Hays leaves to-day for Pittsburgh. The Antelope left Dubuque yesterday for Pittsburgh. The Yankton Union, of the 25th ult., reports the river quite low at that point, and that the following mountain boats have passed Yankton: Antelope, Huntsville, St. Luke, Mountaineer, Ida Stockdale, Octava, Bertha, Peninah and Benton.

SIOUX CITY, May 3.—The Yorktown arrived here this morning, leaving St. Louis on the 18th ult. We have made a remarkably quick trip, considering the stage of water in the Missouri river. There is not over three feet in the principal crossings. We are now lying-to in a heavy gale of wind. All well on board, and when the gale ceases, will go our way rejoicing, with 175 tuns of freight and full of people for the gold mines. S. PEPPARD.

An exchange says: A deck passenger who left the Frank Pargoud at Helena, Arkansas, has been arrested on suspicion of being concerned in the recent robbery of passengers on that boat. He was searched before leaving the boat, but no money was found upon him. In less than a half hour after the steamer departed up the river, he stepped into a saloon, took a drink and handed out a hundred dollar bill to pay for it. Suspicion was at once aroused, and his arrest ordered. Upon searching his person nearly three hundred dollars were found on him, two hundred of which was in one hundred dollar bills. About $10,000 were stolen from the passengers.

We clip the following from the Paducah (Ky.,) papers: Doomed to misfortune, the Ku Klux steamer Milbrey was attached by the Sheriff about a week ago. On Friday, May 1st, her Captain asked permission of Messrs. Fowler, Lee & Co., and Geo. Langstaff, the parties who had her attached for debt, to let him have her for one day to convey the school children to a pic-nic, which they granted him upon his word of honor that he would return her at night. When he came back, which was about ten at night, he went up town and bought a ham, five pounds of crackers, and half a pound of butter; made a frantic rush for the boat, but run through himself before he got there. When he arrived at the boat she started down the river, and when last heard of was 25 miles below cutting cordwood to get further. The United States Marshall was here awaiting to take her, but his eyes weakened about nine o'clock, and all the porter's bells, and clerks at the hotel, could not arouse him from dead slumbers.

The Bellevernon is en route from Saint Louis to Pittsburgh. She has the following articles of freight for this port: 400 bbls sand, 41 bxs glassware, 150 tons pig iron, 7 bbls scrap iron, 3 bales hides, 100 pigs lead, 25 bbls flour, 150 sks shipstuff, 3 cases wine, 33 sks bran, 440 sks oats, 76 barrels clay, 136 pkgs machinery.

The Evansville Journal gives the following particulars of the suicide of William Mathena:

Last night William Mathena committed suicide, about 10 o'clock by taking morphine. Some time between 6 and 7 o'clock in the evening he entered Dick's Saloon, at the corner of First and Locust streets, and asked for a glass of water. He then took from his pocket a paper that contained three other papers, and emptied the contents of two papers into a glass of water, which he drank, saying at the time, "I guess that is enough to send me home." He then threw the third paper on the counter, and the bar-keeper, on picking it up, found that it was labelled "Morphine, 8½ grains." From thence it appears that he went to the store of A. S. Gamble, on First street. The young man in attendance there states that he entered the store about seven p. m., and that after some conversation with him it was discovered that he was in a sinking condition, but it was supposed that he was intoxicated. Shortly after he sank to the floor, and after some time it was discovered he was dying. A physician was sent for but it was too late. He died about ten o'clock. A coroner's inquest was held on the body at 12 o'clock. Mr. Mathena was a steamboat pilot, and was well-known in this city. For several days past he has been drinking a good deal. It was a sad thing, indeed.

TELEGRAMS from Washington state that the final vote of the Senate upon impeachment will be taken on Tuesday.

GEN. HANCOCK'S friends claim that he will secure the votes of the delegates from Pennsylvania, Indiana, and fourteen Southern States for President.

REPORTS from the Florida elections are received at Washington, announcing the ratification of the Constitution and the election of the Republican State ticket, with majorities in each branch of the Legislature.

THE Republican panic at Washington, which assumed such alarming proportions a few days since, has again given place to a very comfortable feeling of certainty touching the Presiden'ts conviction. We need not reasonably anticipate another "scare" before, say, Monday next, when the gossips, who will have industriously improved the Sunday's idleness in the neglect of any good works, will perhaps electrify the country again with another and positively the last sensation of the trial.

THE National House of Representatives has adopted a bill for the admission of Arkansas, with the proviso, by way of a fundamental condition, that no right of suffrage as recognized in her present Constitution shall be hereafter restricted or impaired. This proviso is in addition to the stipulations of the Reconstruction Acts, but is, nevertheless, sustained by all considerations of justice and wise policy, and will be acceptable to all classes of citizens except that, if there be such, which already contemplates the adoption, subsequent to admission, of some such measure as is provided against.

THE Methodist Annual Conference is engaged in a thorough discussion of the Equality question. We noticed the introduction of the topic in that body a few days since. The discussion is marked with the usual features of such discussions upon that issue in other deliberative bodies. The arguments on one side declare the intrinsic merits of the issue, upon the broad, general basis of justice and right, and are resisted on the other hand by merely technical objections and hair-splitting distinctions upon legal and disciplinary points. This is not surprising, for arguments which are unanswerable must be conceded or evaded.

THE Uniontown Standard reports another case of "reaction" in that borough. The Republicans elected their Bnrgess by 31 majority, and the residue of the municipal ticket by an average majority of about the same. This result shows a gain of 28 to 30 over the elections of March and of last October. If the whole county participates in this sort of "reaction," Fayette county will honor herself in a majority for GRANT next November.

The Republicans of Kittanning, Armstrong county, on the same day succeeded in the election of their ticket for municipal officers by some thirty majority. The Democrats have heretofore carried that borough.

THE REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION of Illinois nominated, on the 6th, Gen. John M. Palmer for Governor, and a full State ticket, including Logan re-nominated for Congressman at large. The nominations are received with enthusiasm by the entire party of the State, and, as for the result at the polls, the Republican press declares that "the battle is won already." The resolutions adopted approve of Reconstruction, denounce all forms of repudiation, demand equal taxation and a just distribution of the public burthens, eulogize General Grant, affirm the right of expatriation, and declare the deep interest of Northern labor in the adjustment of Southern institutions upon principles of equity and freedom.

THE opposition majority in the English Commons follows up its advantage vigorously, the House adopting on Tuesday, with the acquiescence of Ministers, the additional resolutions of Mr. Gladstone, relative to the Irish Church. The third resolution is a request to the Crown to surrender its interest in the temporalities of that church. The intended disunion of Church and State was also illustrated by the adoption of further resolutions withdrawing all Parliamentary recognition of the Irish Presbyterians and Catholics, as beneficiaries of the Government. We have no means for judging of the precise extent to which the Ministerial policy will yield its further concurrence in the liberal movement, but have little faith that the Premier will be ultimately successful in retaining office by his temporising concessions.

CONGRESSIONAL.

We have hitherto announced in no mistakable way that we will take no part in the political contest now waging for the nominations within the gift of the forthcoming Union Republican Convention. We will only interfere in the preliminary campaign so far as to urge the various election districts to select none other than good men to represent them in the Convention, and upon those men, whoever they may be, we will strongly urge the necessity of their choosing for the standard bearers of the party the best material offered. Thus shaping our course, we object to being held responsible for the assertions or sentiments made and offered through our columns, which are open to all, by correspondents interested in the political welfare of any candidate.

We have received a note from Gen. JAS. S. NEGLEY, complaining of the article which appeared in our columns yesterday, over an anonymous signature, and asking for the name of the author, that he may correct "the mischievous and wilful misrepresentations put forward." It is our invariable rule to withhold the names of our correspondents, but we deem it due to Gen. NEGLEY in this case to state that the communication emanated outside of our office, and that we have never doubted his military or political record, but to the contrary have looked upon him as a gallant soldier and faithful exponent of the principles held by the Republican party. If he is nominated we can lend him as hearty support as we could to Mr. HOWARD or any of the other worthy gentlemen thus far mentioned for the important office.

THE RIGHT OF NAVIGATION.

The Cincinnati Gazette publishes a statement signed by thirty-five river pilots, showing the inevitable injury to navigation resulting from the erection of a bridge with piers as proposed. With each signature is specified the length of time for which the writer has been employed in his peculiar vocation, the periods varying from six to over forty years. The list includes the names of the best known and most skillful pilots on the river. These gentlemen declare that "It would be difficult and dangerous for us to navigate large and heavily laden steamboats, and boats with tows of barges, between the piers of a bridge having a span of only 300 feet between the piers over the channel, even though the bridge was built at right angles to the current, and the piers in a line with the current.

"While this danger and obstruction at a low stage of the river would be comparatively small, it would be increased with the rise of water in the river, until at a stage of twenty feet and upward, when the heavy business—especially in towing—is done, it would be very serious. We regard it as clear to the mind of any sensible river man and navigator, that the placing of five or six piers within the banks of our narrow river, will, by dividing the water at the piers, create "cross currents" and "eddies," dangerous to navigation. The water above the piers will be higher than below, and the force of the current materially increased, varying, of course, with the stage of water. To be reasonably safe, the length of span should be 500 feet."

This is the testimony of experts, and it completely refutes the assertions of those who represent the impediments to be erected as not seriously prejudicial to navigation. The declarations of experienced pilots must be accepted as authoritative, and mere vague contradictions by attornies or interested parties to the contrary are entitled to no weight whatever. In this community, we take it for granted that no man would defend the erection of short-span bridges at any point on the river. It is universally conceded that the Cincinnati project, with the kindred schemes at other points on the Ohio, contemplates practically the destruction of the boating interest. The people of the upper valley are all of one mind on the question. Why, then, can we not have such prompt and vigorous action, expressive of the public opposition to the project, and of an earnest determination to resist its consummation in every lawful way, as will be felt and responded to at Washington? Persuade our Senators and Representatives that the millions of people who inhabit the regions drained into this great river, are aware of their rights and resolute to maintain them, and our public men will be inspired with a faithfully responsive energy. Let it be known by an unmistakeable expression of the popular feeling that the entire body of voters, residing in the great lumber districts, the coal fields, the oil regions, the wealthy agricultural counties and the populous and busy cities and villages which float the products of their industry down the Ohio river to market, have come to understand the necessity of maintaining the right of navigation unimpaired, and that no infringement upon this right will be submitted to. Let it be known at Washington that we demand the Federal protection, and that we insist upon the duty of our delegates in Congress to see that this protection is accorded to us, and that we will sustain those Representatives and Senators who faithfully oppose the contemplated injury to the interests of their constituents, and, our word for it, these gentlemen will not be found remiss in their own duty. Let us make a plain and indignant protest, and we shall not find ourselves without plenty of good backing at the Capital.

If our fellow-citizens are indifferent in this matter, or if they regard it as every body's business which concerns no one man in particular, and so hold back from participation in suitable action now, the result will be that none will appear to take the lead. The general feeling of interest will soon subside and the obnoxious schemes will be consummated without effective resistance. On the other hand, if every business man in this community shall see his present duty in its true light, and take part in public proceedings for the maintenance of our great river communication we shall have a united and powerful movement, deserving and ensuring success. All the dangers threatened by these bridge projects to our material interests can be averted by a good strong pull, and all together, in the right direction.

RECONSTRUCTION AND SOUTHERN POLITICS.

The importance of a speedy recognition of the recent action of a portion of the Southern States, by accepting its finality and restoring Congressional representation to those peoples, is conceded on all hands. There is no longer a doubt that Arkansas, the two Carolinas, Louisiana, and Georgia have accepted their new Constitutions and that Congress will approve their Republican character. The four States first named are certain to adopt the XIVth Amendatory article, nor is there any other cause for doubt as to Louisiana, except in the indistinct and doubtful report that one branch of the Legislature has a Democratic majority. Even if that be the fact, it is not impossible that, in the light of recent Southern Democratic experience with the colored vote as an element of power quite within the reach of their conciliatory overtures, even this party may find it expedient to fall in with the prevailing current, and, for the sake of a reestablished State authority, comply with the necessary conditions, the Amendment included. Florida, which closed her election last evening, will undoubtedly establish her right to participate in the benefits of the general restoration, by the time that bills may be matured for the restoration of her sister States. The feeling in Congress is averse to any full restoration of Alabama without a clearer expression of the popular will in accepting the existing conditions, but some provision for a civil government of the State, such as the Spalding bill proposes, will probably be made. The remaining States of Virginia, Mississippi and Texas will not entitle themselves to restoration before this session closes.

The six returning States will add twelve members to the Senate, all of them Republicans, and twenty-seven Representatives in the House, of whom three from Georgia and one from Louisiana are reported to be Democratic, and the rest all Republicans. These States, having fully complied with the conditions imposed by Congress, are clearly entitled to their restoration before the session closes. No valid objection can be assigned, nor are we aware that delay is desired in any quarter. All the required stipulations have been complied with, and our friends in Congress owe it to their own reputation for good faith, to the peace and good order of the re-organized States, to the just expectations of the Union people in those States which have yet to vote, and to the Republican party of the loyal States, to receive the returning sisterhood with the least possible delay.

It is well understood that the Democratic party feels encouraged to believe that it can carry a portion of the Presidential vote of these six States in November. This is a matter which naturally interests politicians, but no Republican Senator or Representative should permit his vote for immediate restoration to be impeded by such considerations. If the opposition have just grounds for their belief, they are welcome to all they can make. If the Republican party is to lose any part of the Southern Presidential vote in a fair fight between parties, there will be no way to avoid it except by some trick or despotism which the loyal masses anywhere can never be brought to sanction. If we are to be beaten in the elections for President, or for Representatives in the lower House, we are sure of the Senate for six years to come, and, under the healthful discipline of a partial defeat, we may realize that no loss is without some gain. But, in fact, not one of these six States is likely to cast its vote for the nominee of the New York Convention. The Democracy may gain a Congressman or two in the elections of this fall for the XLIst Congress, but we need fear nothing more serious than that. For President, we think GRANT a strong candidate in the loyal States, but he will prove even more popular in the South. The man that "whipped Massa Lee" will sweep through loyal Southern hearts, under whatever colored skins, like fire through a cane-brake.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

The Board of Foreign Missions of the (O. S.) Presbyterian Church, held an anniversary meeting last Sabbath in the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church, N. Y. Reports were read from missionaries in different foreign countries. In the various fields of labor the missionary force, including native helpers and wives of missionaries, number three hundred and seventy. There are forty-four organized churches, with a membership of over one thousand. Nearly three hundred communicants have been added the past year. The receipts of the Board have been $285,308. The expenditures, with the debt of last year of $35,472, have been $312,828, leaving a balance against the treasury of $27,356. The gifts of the children of the Church for this cause, says the Independent, were unexampled in her history, amounting to $45,340. Rev. Dr. Hall, at the close of the reading of the reports, preached the annual sermon.

The Baptist Anniversaries, during May, at New York, are to be held in the First Baptist Mariner's Church, from May 21st to May 27th, inclusive. The Baptist organizations that will hold these anniversaries are the American Baptist Publication Society, American Baptist Missionary Union, American and Foreign Bible Society, Home Mission Anniversary, and the semi-annual meeting of the American Bible Union. Rev. Isaac Errett, a prominent minister of the Christian (Disciples) Church, is to be one of the speakers at the last named meeting.

Elder Knapp, the noted Baptist revivalist, who has been laboring on the Pacific coast for some time, has baptized in San Francisco, it is said, a Jewish Rabbi, who had officiated at Constantinople, and was master of several languages. The Hebrew Observer, of that city, asserts that he is no Rabbi, but a tailor by trade.

The Congregational Quarterly represents that the East has 1,705 Congregational churches, 1,831 ministers, and 211,683 members; while the interior has 1,083 churches, 958 ministers, and 72,240 members—showing the East to have about five-eighths of the churches, almost double the number of ministers, and nearly two-thirds of the members.

The official report of the Methodist Episcopal Sunday School Union shows that the circulation of the Sunday School Advocate is 352,500 copies. The Union issued last year 6,104,981 Sunday school books, bound and in paper covers. Their schools number 15,292, their officers and teachers 171,695, their scholars 1,083,525. There has been 119,428 conversions reported by the Conferences during the past four years.

An eastern exchange represents that the West is calling for Ministers. Three kinds are described as not wanted, namely: Lazy Ministers, Speculative Ministers, and Ministers who cannot find a place anywhere else.

According to the Religious Telescope, organ of the "United Bretheren in Christ," suffrage is accorded, without distinction of sex or color, assuming that the Bible declares in the Kingdom of God there is neither male nor female, and that all are alike "fellow citizens of the household of faith."

For years past the first Sabbath in May has happened to be marked by an unusual number of new members at Beecher's Church, Brooklyn, both by letter and on profession. The number last Sunday were twenty by letter and fifty-one on profession, making seventy-one in all.

The First United Presbyterian Church of this city, so long and to well served by Rev. Dr. Robert Bruce, now under the pastoral care of Rev. Wm. J. Reid, has enjoyed considerable prosperity during the past six years. At the time Rev. Mr. Reid was installed over this congregation in 1862, soon after the organization of the Fifth Church by Rev. S. B. Reed, it had about one hundred and twenty-five members. The pastor, in his sixth anniversary sermon, preached on the first Sabbath of April, stated the present membership to be three hundred and twenty-seven. During the year $8,374 has been raised for congregational and missionsry purposes. The trustees have just raised the salary of the pastor to $2,500.

From information received by the Presbyterian Banner, the Rev. N. L. Rice, D.D., sometime ago elected by the Declaration and Testimony men in Missouri, President of Westminster College, in that State, is about to accept the office, and thus identify himself with that party.

At the recent session of the Troy Methodist Episcopal Church, a candidate from the Reformed (Dutch) Church offered himself for admission, but he was not received. The applicant was forty-six years old, and a brother whispered to another, "We would not dare, however much we might desire the thing, to receive a candidate from paradise if he was over forty. Our people want the men of twenty to thirty-five." It's a blessing that few people have this notion.

A jubilee meeting was held the other Sabbuth in the Lexington Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church, New York, over the change that day inaugurated, from a pewed to a free church.

A minister was recently installed pastor of a Congregational church at Danbury, Ct., at which an irregular Council, consisting of Methodists, Baptists, Universalists, "Disciples," "Christians," and Congregationalists, assisted. The regular Congregational bodies of the county declined to have any thing to do with the matter.

The Christian Intelligencer says Archbishop M'Closkey has purchased, for the use of the Catholic Church, St. John's Episcopal chapel in Varick street, New York city. The chapel is to be consecrated and renovated.

Rev. Loyal Young, who has been pastor of the Presbyterian church in Butler, Pa., for nearly thirty-five years, at his own request, has been released, and dismissed from the Presbytery, to connect himself with the Presbytery of West Virginia.

Most of the Presbyteries of the United Presbyterian Church have voted on the overture on the use of instrumental music in religious worship. The vote is more than two to one against the proposed change.

Rev. George F. Magoun, of Grinnell, Iowa, it is represented, fills the pulpit of Plymouth Church, Chicago, regularly. To do this, he makes a journey each week of six hundred and twenty-five miles.

The Troy M. E. Conference has a Ministerial Life Assurance Society, with one hundred members. The average of insurance to each member is seven hundred and fifty dollars, and the average cost four dollars per annum.

An exchange denominates the Second Baptist Church at Newport, R. I., a "Queer Baptist Church," for the following reasons: It was founded two hundred and eleven years ago, and was a Six-Principle Baptist Church, and still holds the rite of confirmation. For a hundred years no singing was allowed. When it was introduced, it was amid a violent opposition. Out of tender regard to the consciences of those who thought singing in church a sin, a vote was passed allowing all such to withdraw while the music was performed; and when the hymn was sung, a part of the congregation went out doors and stayed in the cold. Here, we presume, its queerness ends. Thirty years ago the Church adopted open communion. Its present pastor, Rev. Howard Malcolm, it will be remembered, held a union communion, at which Congregationalists and Methodists participated. For this act of liberality, the First Church at Newport has, by vote, withdrawn its fellowship, and the Rhode Island Baptist State Convention, at its recent session, adopted a resolution disfellowshipping the Second Baptist Church, the Convention solemnly declaring that in its judgment a Church inviting to the Lord's table those who have not been baptized in accordance with the Lord's command, meaning by immersion, is not a regular Baptist Church.

The General Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod of the United States commences its session at Harrisburg, Pa., on Wednesday evening. The General Synod, is composed of delegates, lay and ministerial, elected from twenty-one District Synods. There are already about two hundred and fifty delegates present. It promises to be an eminently interesting occasion.

The Semi-Annual meeting of the American Christian (Disciples) Missionary Society, will be held in Baltimore, commencing on the 19th inst. A large attendance and an interesting meeting is expected.

The General Conference of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, assembled at Washington City some days since. Bishops Quinn, Campbell and Wayman were present. Bishop A. D. Payne, who has been absent on a mission to Europe in behalf of the Wilberforce University, has not arrived. The attendance is quite large.

Just now, as the Fifteenth Quadrennial session of the General Conference is in session at Chicago, many of our readers will be pleased to know something of Methodism in America. The divisions of Methodism are as follows: 1. The Methodist Episcopal Church, chiefly in the North, with a membership of 1,146,081. 2. The Methodist Episcopal Church South, with 757,202 members. 3. The "Methodist" Church, a name taken by some non-Episcopal Methodists, 50,000 in number. 4. The Methodist Protestant Church, chiefly in the South, about 50,000 strong. 5. The Wesleyan Connection, with 20,000 members. 6. The Evangelical Association, largely German, numbering 60,000. 7. The African Methodist Episcopal Church, with 600,000 members, and the African M. E. Zion Church, with above 60,000. 8. Free Methodist Churches, about 5,000. 9. Primitive Methodists, 2,000. 10. The M. E. Church in Canada, 190,000 strong. Grand total of Methodists on this continent, nearly 3,000,000. The Methodist says that the aggregate Methodists in the world will reach 3,500,000, representing a population of 9,000,000.

HERE is a choice scrap, says the N. Y. Tribune, from the confession (in the Pendleton organ—Cincinnati Enquirer) of a Democratic nigger-hater, who was concerned in the Georgia election—a regular howler against negro equality and all that:

"The great 'Black Belt' of Georgia, that portion of the State lying in the south-west portion of the State, and not of the Ocmulgee, where the intelligent planters reside, in which there was a negro majority in almost every county of from 400 to 3,000; and in some cases, where the black vote registered was about seven to one as compared to the white, the unexpected result is presented of Democratic majorities in nearly every county, thus demonstrating, beyond all doubt, that whenever the Southern white man condescends to make the effort, the carpet-bag Yankee stands no chance in compelling his negro vote. Take as an instance the IId Congressional District. In that district the registered vote shows an aggregate negro majority of nearly 8,000 votes, and yet Nelson Tift, the Democratic candidate for Congress, is elected by at least 2,500 majority; and Gen. Gordon, the Democratic candidate for Governor, received even still a larger majority. The Democratic speakers went among them and explained the issues to them in such a way as to cause the Loyal Leaguers to melt like snow before the rising sun. I made several speeches to them, and whenever I began to talk to them about taxes on cotton and tobacco, and sugar, and explained that all these things came from their pretended friends, and if they continued to stick to them they would have to be still further taxed to pay the United States bonds, and if they voted for this Constitution they would vote to give the white man all the land henceforth and forever, they would shake their heads, and fall an easy prey to the Democratic party."

Of course Nelson Tift, Democrat, will not presume to come to Washington as a Congressman elected by nigger votes, not a bit of it. Nigger voting is an abomination—when it is on the wrong side!

The Letters from Dr. Livingstone.

The London Telegraph says: "The promised dispatches from Dr. Livingstone, mentioned in Sir Rhoderick Murchison's letter, have now been received at the Foreign Office. Interesting as every line and word must be which thus comes to us, however, the public must not expect too much from the documents which are soon to see the light. The letters given to Bunduki, the Arab trader, and brought down by him to the coast, are, first of all, fifteen months old. The letters brought by Bunduki will not be very rich in geographical or ethnological details. They left the good Doctor in the open and unknown country between Lake Nyassa and Lake Tanganyika, on the line at the beginning of which Mr. Young traced the explorer's track, and was then obliged to turn back. That he was perfectly safe and sound, far past the scene of his imaginary murder, the letters now received, if proof were necessary, most distinctly show. Of course Africa is not St. James's street in any point of safety and comfort; but from Tanganyika Livingstone would know his way home almost as well as a 'traveller' from Boodle's to Charing Cross."

COLORED VOTERS.—The good conduct of the Republicans during the election may well be a source of great gratification. Especially may this be said of our colored voters. Their patience under insult, their self-control under outrages, their quiet endurance of injustice, inflicted under the forms of law, have won for them the highest commendation from all fair-minded, intelligent men. They have also, as a class, exhibited intelligence and judgment. Friday night, forged tickets, with the vignette and border almost precisely like those of the regular Republican ticket, were gotten up by the Rebel Democracy, at considerable expense, and were freely circulated on Saturday, but notwithstanding Deputy Sheriffs and policemen at most of the polls assured the colored voters that they were the genuine Republican ticket, not twenty of them were voted by colored men in the whole city.—N. O. Republican, 21st.

DUNKIRK, New York is greatly excited over a case of domestic scandal. The postmaster of the village, Sidney L. Wilson, is charged with conspiring with his aunt against his wife, to procure from her a written confession of infidelity. Such a paper was drawn up by a justice of the peace of Fredonia, and the names of eight citizens of Dunkirk, married and single men, inserted in it, as persons with whom she had illicit intercourse. Mrs. Wilson signed it. She now says the paper was procured by importunity, harsh treatment, and promises that it should never be known to others than those witnessing the confession, and denies that the statement is true to any extent whatever. The indignant citizens caused the arrest of Wilson and his aunt, and they were held to answer in $2,000 bail.

REV. JOHN H. HOPKINS, in writing of his father, says that he left a treatise, which demonstrates that the common Protestant nation, which regards the Pope as anti-Christ, is necessarily incorrect. This has been construed by hungry Bohemians into a declarotion that Bishop Hopkins died in the Romish faith.

BITTERS.

The human stomach seems to require a tonic stimulant. From time whereof the memory of man runneth not to the contrary, tonic bitters have been used. Formerly men made their own bitters, and few thought of eating breakfast without first taking their "tansy." Those were days, however, when prohibitory laws were unknown, and, in consequence, liquors were pure. Dealers could then afford to be honest and sell nothing but the unadulterated. Now, however, what with government tax and court fines, poke-berry juice and alcohol must pass muster for "old rye" and "pure bourbon." People have come to fear poisoning more than malarial diseases and dropped their "tansy." Right here is where HOSTETTER & SMITH, of Pittsburgh, have proven benefactors. Years ago they commenced the manufacture of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, laying it down as a rule, that has since been conscientiously followed, to use nothing but the purest liquors, manufactured expressly for them. By strict adherence to this rule they have won public confidence and reaped their reward in a large, profitable and steady business. Their BITTERS is known all over the country. They are the pioneers of the business, and have the largest manufactory in the world. Nor has success in their case, as in too many instances, rendered them careless; their BITTERS is as pure and good to-day as was the first distillation. We heartily recommend them as a tonic.

As a specific for dyspepsia, biliousness, constipation, nervousness, general debility, and remittent and intermittent fevers its efficacy has never been questioned.

There are many worthless imitations; we earnestly caution the public against them.

ANOTHER CURE OF DEAFNESS.

I lost my hearing during the last year. Part of the time I was totally deaf. In April of this year I was induced, from an advertisement, to make application to DR. KEYSER, 120 Penn street, Pittsburgh. After having tried various medicines from doctors, without any benefit, I have been under Dr. Keyser's treatment now for nearly two months, and am entirely restored to my hearing, so that I can hear a pin drop.

JOHN SCANLAN,
Coal Bluffs, Washington Co., Pa.

ANOTHER CURE.

A man called to-day at Dr. Keyser's office to inform him of a great cure made by his LUNG CURE, or PULMONARY RESTORATIVE. Of all these cures are made with the Doctor's preparations, he desires it to be distinctly understood that most of his great cures are made in accordance with the established laws that govern the science of medicine, in which he has been engaged for the past twenty-five years. Last week he was also in receipt of a letter from a clergyman in the State of Ohio, detailing another most wonderful cure.

We desire to call the attention of parties about to widen their sidewalks, according to ordinance, to our Patent Iron Curb and Pavement. The same will be laid in front of the Opera House this week and will speak for itself. The following is an extract from a letter of the City Engineer and Regulator: "I consider it superior to stone, and if laid in Fifth street, will add greatly to its beauty, and I would recommend it to property owners.

A RIVER BOTTOM FARM OF 76 ACRES, 19 miles from the city, in Elizabeth township, Allegheny county, Pa., on the Youghiogheny river, one-half mile from Elrod's Station, on the Connellsville railroad; near churches, schools, stores, &c., in the flourishing villages of Boston and Green Oak. The improvements are a two-story brick house of six rooms, hall and cellar, a good frame bank barn with stabling underneath, and other outbuildings; a well of good standing water at the door, and several standing springs of water on the farm, and an orchard of 700 trees of selected fruits of apples, cherries, pears, peaches, quinces and grapes. This property being located near the line of the railroad, within one hour's ride of the city, makes it very desirable for gardening or a dairy farm; it is also a good and beautiful location for country homes near the city, lying immediately on the river, on the opposite side from the railroad. The West Newton Accommodation and other trains on the railroad afford certain and frequent opportunities of daily communication to and from the city. Will be sold as a whole or in lots of one acre or more, to suit purchasers.

Also, A FARM OF 173 ACRES, situated in St. Clair township, Westmoreland county, Pa., near the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad at Houston Station. The improvements are a two-story frame house, with six rooms and good cellar, a frame bank barn 40 by 60 feet, and other outbuildings. There is on the place a young apple and peach orchard; 120 acres cleared land, divided into fields of convenient size, a large portion of which are well set in clover and timothy; the residue of said tract covered with good timber. It is well watered and underlaid with coal and limestone, and is convenient to churches, schools, stores, mills and blacksmith shops. A real good bargain is offered in this excellent farm; and with it will be sold all the personal property on the premises, consisting of horses, cows, stock cattle, hogs and poultry, harness, gears, wagon, plows, farming implements and household and kitchen furniture. Together will be sold very low and on easy terms, to a responsible purchaser.

Also, a desirable and very fertile Tract of Land of 158 ACRES AND 25 PERCHES, in Elizabeth Tp., Allegheny county, Pa., on the line of the Hempfield railroad, and one and one-half miles from the Connellsville railroad at Suter's Station. On this farm are 40 acres of superior white oak timber, which alone is now worth one-half the price asked for the whole tract. The improvements are a log house, frame barn, good fencing, and an apple orchard of good fruit. It is well watered and underlaid with limestone and flag stone of a superior quality, with stone coal for the use of the farm.

Also, The best FARM in Fairfield township, Westmoreland county, Pa., of 250 ACRES, about six miles south of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad at Bolivar Station. FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, May 8, 1868.

The gold market was firmer to-day in consequence of the heavy shipments of specie to Europe amounting to about three million dollars for the past week. The scarcity of commercial bills in the market forces the bankers to remit specie in payment of the gold interest on May first. The demand for coin has also stimulated the market for bonds for European shipment, and prices have advanced ¾ per cent. within three days. Although the demand for cash gold has been very large little excitement is noticed in the market, the demand for coin seems to be strictly legitimate, and speculators do not buy to hold for a rise.

Government bonds were all firmer, especially Five Twenties of 1865; Consols and 1867 bonds principally wanted in exchange for Seven Thirties. The investment demand runs principally on old Five Twenties of 1863 and 1865, which are comparatively cheaper, being without accrued interest. In Seven Thirties there is scarcely any change, the time of their maturity being so near at hand.

In stocks there was a general rise of all western roads. Fort Wayne has advanced from 105½ to 107½ within a few days; the demand for this stock is principally for investment, which is a proof of the good management of the road and its productions. Capitalists pay more attention to these securities than the watered stocks of eastern companies. Nearly all the shares of western through routes that were held on speculation In Wall staeet a year ago, have all passed quietly into the hands of parties able to hold them. In local securities some Insurance stocks are offered but find but few purchasers. The high prices of oil have also caused a demand for Columbia., Triumph and Pittsburgh and Cherry Run oil companies.

Money is in good demand at 10 to 12 per cent. for all but prime paper out of the banks.

Closing quotations as received by Ph. R. Mertz, were as follows:

Gold, 139⅜; 1881 bonds, 113⅜; 1862 5-20s, 108⅝; 1864 do, 106¾; 1865 do, 107⅛; Consols, 109½; 10-40s, 103⅛; 7-30s, 107⅜.

Railroads—Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 84⅝; Fort Wayne, 107½; North Western, common 66; North Western—preferred, 76¾; New York Central, 128¾; Erie, 68¾; Old Southern, 84½; Ohio & Mississippi, 31¼; Merchants Union Express, 31½; Western Union Telegraph, 38⅛. Mining Shares—Corydon, 28; Quartz Hill, 90; Quicksilver, 32.

—The Comptroller of the State of New York complains that many of the national banks of that State, when called upon for a full statement of their business affairs, decline to report, upon the ground that they already report and pay taxes to the General Government. Their excuse is certainly entitled to some consideration. The national banks are confused and annoyed by the multiplicity of returns and reports required of them.

—The New York Tribune, of Thursday, says: The increase in currency during April of $8,944,000 is the subject of remark in financial circles. It is now apparent that the pressure for money during April was intensified by the sale of gold for legal tenders, for which the Treasury had no use. Instead of restoring to commercial channels the legal tenders by purchasing Seven Thirties at 105⅝, the Treasury preferred to lose interest on its balance, and, after the money market had recovered, became the buyer of Seven Thirties at 107¼ to 107⅜. This mode of administering the finances may have been wholly in the public interest, but upon the surface it looks as though private interests were the first consideration.

The report that the Pittsburgh and Fort Wayne road is to issue a million of new stock for construction is without foundation. Its power to sell stock is exhausted, and its renewals can only be effected by a vote of stockholders.

IRON AND NAILS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBUGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, May 8, 1868.

The demand for iron during the past week is reported by manufacturers as moderately active, with prices unchanged. The demand is confined to supplying immediate wants. Manufacturers are mostly engaged in filling contracts for parties who have ordered ahead, and the stocks of nails is much broken. Prices are firm for small lots, with an abatement of 12½ per keg, and 3 per cent. cash for good orders.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, May 8, 1868.

The general markets are devoid of any new characteristices worthy of special notice. We can report a steady demand for all of the leading commodities, and while there are no material changes, prices, generally, are firm and well sustained. Grain is very firm and considerably excited, and stocks are pretty well reduced. Provisions are also firm but unchanged, and the same remarks will apply to Flour.

APPLES—Green Apples are firm and scarce but unchanged; we continue to quote at $6 to $7 per bbl.

ASHES—Steady, with sales at 4½ to 5c for common and refined Soda Ash, and Pearls at 11c.

DRIED FRUIT—We can report a steady demand for Peaches at 13 to 13½c. Apples unchanged at 7 to 7½c.

POTATOES—Prime Peach Blows are in steady demand at $1,50 per bushel. Jersey Sweets, $8,50 to $9 per bbl.

GRAIN—Winter Wheat is in demand and firm, with sales of prime Red at $2,70 to $2,75, and 5 to 8c higher for White. Oats firm and in light snpply but unchanged; sales on wharf and track at 80c, and in store at 83 to 85c. Corn is firm at $1,10, and the usual advance for small lots in store. Rye is in demand at $2 to $2,10. There is not much inquiry for Barley, most of the malsters having suspended operations.

BUTTER—Is in rather better demand, and prices are a shade higher; we now quote at 35c for prime Roll, and 38 to 40c for choice.

EGGS—Unchanged and in good supply; 20c is the standard price.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is firm and in steady jobbing demand but unchanged. One of our leading houses quotes as follows: 14½ to 14¾c for Shoulders; 16¾c to 17c for Ribbed Sides, and 18½ to 19c for Clear do; 19½ to 19¾c for Plain Sugar Cured Hams, and 20¾ to 21c for Canvassed do. Lard, 20c, in tierces, and 21c, in kegs. Dried Beef, 22½c for uncanvassed, and 23½ for canvassed. Mess Pork, $30 to $30,50.

LARD OIL—Is firm but unchanged; we continue to quote at $1,25 for No. 2, and $1,55 for No. 1.

SALT—Is quiet and unchanged. We continue to quote at $1,75 to $1,80 to the trade, and $2 for small lots in store.

FLOUR—The market is firm, and although unchanged, prices are well maintained. We continue to quote at $11,25 to $11,75 for Spring Wheat; $12 to $12,75 for Winter Wheat, and $14 to $16 for fancy brands. Rye Flour, $10, and firm.

HAY—Weighmaster McNulty, at the Allegheny Diamond Scales, reports sales of 31 loads of Hay at $20 to $27; 3 loads of Straw at $16, and one load Corn Husks at 3c per pound.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, May 8, 1868.

CRUDE—The market was more active to-day, the reported sales, in the aggregate, being considerably larger than for several days past, reaching about fourteen thousand barrels. Spot oil is off from a quarter to a half; sales having been made to-day at 11c, against 11½ to 11¾c yesterday. The transactions reported were as follows: 1,200 bbls to be delivered on this water at 11c; 2,000 do same delivery at 11c; 1,000, seller's option, all the year, at 10½c; 2,000, seller's option, to December 1st, at 10½c; 1,000 for May or June, seller's option, at 11c; 1,000 for May at 11c; 2,000, spot, at 11c; 3,000 this water at 11c. From the above, it will be seen that spot or this water may be quoted at 11c; May or June, seller's option, at 11c, and all the year, same option, at 10½c. The river is again in fine navigable condition, and we may look for large arrivals within the next few days, quite a fleet of towboats having gone up the Allegheny a day or two ago.

REFINED—The market for bonded oil was also unusually active to-day, the sales, in the aggregate, being larger than during any preceding day this week, but prices, as a general thing, are a shade lower. To illustrate, May sold to-day at 30 to 30½c, against 31c during the early part of the week; future deliveries, however, are unchanged, and while the market is a little weak, sellers in this market are firm, and, as a general thing, refuse to make concessions in order to effect sales. The following is a report of the operations: 1,000 bbls last half of May at 30c; 500 do do at 30¼c, and 1,000 at 30½c; 500 each July to December, inclusive, at 31c; 500 each July to December at 31½c; 500 August to December at 31c; 500 each June and July at 30c; 2,000 first half of June at 30c, and 500 same delivery at 30c.

RESIDUUM—Sale of 200 bbls at $2 per bbl, bbls included.

PITTSBURGH METAL MARKET,

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, May 8, 1868.

Business during the week was materially active. There was a fair trade done in crude irons. The receipts have largely increased, yet, in certain descriptions there is but little accumulation of stocks. Common and inferior irons were neglected. Concessiohs to the extent of fifty cents per ton was made in order to effect sales. Foundry irons remain dull. The consumptive demand being very light.

Col. William Phillips Peremptorily Declines Congressional Honors—Meeting of the Second Ward Grant Club.

Pursuant to adjournment the Second ward Grant Club held a special meeting at their rooms, No. 66 Smithfield street, last evening, Thomas Steel, Esq., presiding. Mr. Ewing, from the Committee appointed to wait on Col. Phillips and request him, on behalf of the Republicans of the ward, to become a candidate for nomination for Congress by the forthcoming Convention, reported that he had replied that he would not enter into any personal contest for nomination or solicit it; but if the Republican Convention should nominate him he would not feel at liberty to decline, but would accept and go to work in earnest for a successful campaign.

Col. Phillips being present, stated that the report presented by Mr. Ewing did not fully express his answer to the Committee, but rather changed its meaning. He had given the subject careful consideration, and while, if nominated by the Convention without his solicitation he would not feel at liberty to decline the honor, still he would ask leave to withdraw the report of the Committee, and keep out of the canvass entirely. He was prepared to warmly unite in the support of any candidate put forward by the Convention. Besides, he thought his nomination, secured through the efforts of his friends, at this late stage of the canvass might excite discord in the ranks of the party. Either of the candidates now prominent was worthy support, and he would go in to help to give one or the other a large majority.

Under the circumstances, Mr. Steel thought it perhaps desirable that the request of Col. Phillips be complied with.

Mr. Keeler moved that the request of Colonel Phillips to withdraw his answer to the committee be granted. There were certain principles to be observed in a campaign, and one was that it was not best to change the front in the presence of the enemy. He thought that under the circumstances the club had better act as requested.

Messrs. Mathews, Aiken, Ewing, and others, addressed the meeting, when the report of the Committee was withdrawn and Colonel Phillips' declination accepted.

On motion of T. H. Phelps, Esq., the following resolution was unanimously adopted.

Resolved, That while expressing our regrets that Colonel Phillips has refused to become a candidate we pledge ourselves to give hearty support to whomsoever may receive the nomination of the Union Republican Convention for Congress.

On motion adjourned.

The Police Parade.

The police uniforms, of which so much has been said since the authorities decided to uniform the force, have at last been completed and will be issued to the men this morning. The uniform consists of a coat, pants and vest of blue cloth, which cost the city $50 per suit, and a cap, mace and belt, at a cost of $5. Upon receiving the suit each policeman will be required to sign a bond in the sum of $100, conditioned for the use of the uniform and return of the cap, buttons, belt, mace and shield, at the expiration of their term of service, and an agreement that the city shall retain $4 per month of their salaries until the end of the year, which, if the officer remains in service, shall be paid to him.

At two o'clock this afternoon a parade will take place, in which the entire force, in full uniform, will participate. The following is the route of procession decided upon: The parade will form at the Mayor's office, on Fourth street, and proceed to Smithfield street, up Smithfield to Liberty street, thence to Mechanic street, along Mechanic to Penn street, down Penn to St. Clair street, up St. Clair to Market street, thence to Water street, up Water to Grant street, up Grant to Fifth street, out Fifth to Wylie street, thence by Wylie to Logan street, down Logan to Pennsylvania avenue, down the Avenue to Fifth street, along Fifth to Liberty street, down Liberty to Pitt street, down Pitt to Penn street, down Penn to Second street, up Second to Smithfield street, and along Smithfield to the Mayor's office.

The parade will be headed by a fine band of music. The regular force will all be relieved from duty to-day, in order to give them an opportunity to prepare for the parade, and their duty will be done by substitutes.

The Green Graves of Our Soldiers.

The Grand Army of the Republic, by order of its Commander-in-Chief, Gen. John A. Logan, will celebrate the 30th inst. as a holiday for paying tribute to the memory of the heroic comrades who fell in the recent war. A circular from the headquarters of the organization says:

The 30th day of May, 1868, is designated for the purpose of strewing with flowers or otherwise decorating the graves of comrades who died in defence of their country during the late rebellion, and whose bodies now lie in almost every city, village and hamlet church-yard in the land. In this observance no form of ceremony is prescribed, but posts and comrades will in their own way arrange such fitting services and testimonials of respect as circumstances will permit.

It is the purpose of the Commander-in-Chief to inaugurate this observance with the hope that it will be kept up from year to year, while a survivor of the war remains to honor the memory of his departed comrades. He earnestly desires the public press to call attention to this order, and lend its friendly aid in bringing it to the notice of comrades in all parts of the country in time for simultaneous compliance therewith.

Fatal Accident—Death of a Pittsburgh Lady.

The clip the following account of an accident which resulted fatally to Mrs. Kernan, wife of Mr. Edward R. Kernan, of Oakland, occurring at Battle Creek, Michigan, Tuesday, 5th inst., from the Union of that place:

On Sunday evening Col. J. F. Duncan and wife, of this city, and Mr. Edward R. Kernan, of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, after an evening's drive on the Marshall road, met with a very serious and fatal accident. Col. Duncan drove the party to the gate of his residence, on Green street; Mr. Kernan assisted Mrs. Duncan from the carriage, but unfortunately, her hoop skirt became entangled in some part of the carriage, and for a time Mrs. Duncan was supported by Mr. Kernan and her feet in the spokes of the wheel. Mr. Duncan immediately endeavored to release the skirt, and while so doing the horses took fright. Mrs. Kernan being in the carriage, a silent spectator, and a heavy and helpless woman, could not get out without considerable assistance. Col. Duncan reined the horses directly across the street, to prevent their running to the fence, and endeavored to get Mrs. Kernan from the carriage, but she seemed incapable of any action, and with a scream, the horses made another bound, and the carriage struck a tree on the opposite side of the street and upset, throwing Mrs. Kernan out upon the ground, when the horses broke loose. She was immediately carried into the residence of Col. Duncan, and physicians Cox, Slater and Campbell were immediately called, all of whom pronounced the case a bad one. Her friends were telegraphed for at Pittsburgh. She died Tuesday morning at three and a half o'clock. At nine o'clock yesterday morning an inquest was convened and adjourned at the request of Col. Duncan and Mr. Kernan, until the arrival of the deceased's mother, who is announced, by telegraph, to arrive Tuesday night, after which the corpse will be conveyed to her late residence, at Oakland, near Pittsburgh, Pa.

Captured a Canary.

J. C. Clark, proprietor of the "White Cottage," at Perrysville, made information before Alderman McMasters, yesterday, charging Major A. H. Munroe with larceny by bailee. It appears that the Major was on a visit to Perrysville a few days since when it seems the proprietor was absent from home, and he took a great fancy to a canary he discovered in a cage at the aforesaid place, the property of Mr. Clark, and by some means got possession of it, we know not how, but it must have been legally or the prosecution would have been for larceny. When Mr. Clark returned home he made inquiry regarding his bird and was informed that the Major had taken it with him. He called upon him for the bird and cage but the gallant Major refused to give it up, hence the information. He was arrested and after a hearing a commitment made out and given to the constable, but rather than be caged himself he agreed to give up the caged bird, and in a few moments after the prosecutor and defendant came into the office together, the former carrying the cage and bird, and requested that the prosecution be withdrawn, which the Alderman very properly consented to, and the prisoner was discharged.

An Alderman Prosecuted.

Alderman A. Baillis, of the First ward, Allegheny, was charged, on oath of Michael Powell, before Alderman McMasters, with misdemeanor in office. The prosecutor alleges that on the 7th inst. the Alderman issued an execution attachment on a judgment given in the case wherein J. W. Atkinson was plaintiff and the prosecutor defendant. Powell alleges that the amount of the judgment had been previously paid to the constable connected with the Alderman, and by him handed over, and for which amount the magistrate gave a receipt. Notwithstanding this fact he alleges that the Alderman issued and served personally an attachment on James Beatty as garnishee, by which the prosecutor claims to have been greatly inconvenienced. He was arrested and waiving a hearing gave bail for his appearance at Court.

The committee appointed by the Board of Trustees of Washington and Jefferson College to devise a plan for the better union of the institution met yesterday afternoon at the office of Judge Veech, corner of Grant and Fourth streets, Pittsburgh, and unanimously agreed to recommend that the college classes, which have heretofore been divided between Washington and Canonsburg, be brought together at one place.

An adjourned meeting of the Board will be held on the 5th of June to mature the plan of union and to fix the locality. The following gentlemen constitute the committee: Hon. James P. Sterrett, Pittsburgh; James Veech, Esq., Pittsburgh; Mr. Sherrard, Steubenville, Ohio; Judge Atcheson, Washington, P.; Mr. McDaniel, Canonsburg; Rev. John McMillan, Allegheny City.

Assault with Intent to Commit Rape.—Sarah Brown, a German girl, aged fifteen years, made information before Mayor Drum yesterday, charging John Lees, a merchant in Allegheny, with assault and an attempt to commit a rape. The prosecutrix it appears is a relative of the defendant's wife, and only came to this country seven months ago, since then she has resided in the family of the accused as a domestic. She alleges that he has frequently attempted to violate her person. He was arrested and after a hearing held to bail for his appearance at court.

Imitation Marble—A Great Invention.

There has been going on silently but with marked effect, a great revolution in the marble cutters art. The secret of turning homely slate dug from the quarries so numerous throughout our country into an imitation, if imitation that which exceeds the genuine can be called, of the costliest and most beautiful marble produced in the broad world, has of late been largely employed in the production of mantels, monuments, tables, tablets, signs and ornaments. We believe there are but seven persons who thoroughly understand this art in the United States—at least not more than that number practice it with decided success in this country. In this city Mr. W. W. Wallace, 319 Liberty street, has been the first and only one to introduce the manufacture, having secured the services of Mr. J. F. O'Brien, of New York, to take charge of that department. The process of marbleizing slate is a beautiful one, requiring the greatest care, skill and attention. We do not mean to go into the details, but it will suffice all practical purposes to state that the imitation marble is far prettier, more elegant, more serviceable and decidedly cheaper than the ordinary expensive marble now used in parlor mantels, vestibules, &c. At the warerooms of Mr. Wallace will be found a magnificent assortment of mantles, perfect gems of beauty in imitation of the most famous and expensive marbles of the universe, which are much cheaper than the genuine article. They are held at prices remarkably cheap, not a great deal higher than wood mantels of good workmanship, and yet rich, elegant and infinitely more durable. Visitors are requested to call in and see the elegant display made of this line of goods in the mantel department of Wallace's well-known works, Liberty street, nearly opposite the mouth of Smithfield.

300,000 Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machines Now in Use, Exceeding the Next Largest Company 12,000 Machines per Annum.

Time tries all things. Use only furnishes the final test. Opinions of the skillful may be of value, but time is needed to confirm them.

While the Wheeler & Wilson company has given to the public the best fruits of inventive genius, it has guarded it from a multitude of traps. Attachments have been added for various purposes, as hemming, binding, braiding, cording, &c., but it has been kept free of all useless complications. Simplicity of parts, and adaptation to the widest range of work, has been the constant aim. Instead of boasting of a variety of useless stiches and movements, it claims to make but one kind of stitch, and that with the fewest movements possible. Hence the machine may run constantly for fourteen years, or a lifetime, even, and work just as well as when new. With a complication of parts and movements, it would require monthly repairs and adjustments. As the purchase of a Sewing Machine is, or may be, an act for a lifetime, care should be had in getting what time and use have approved.

Messrs. Sumner & Co., at No. 29 Fifth street, always have on hand a fine assortment of these unrivalled machines, which they take pleasure in showing to all who favor them with a call.

Larceny by Bailee.—Edward Cassingham made information before Alderman Mullin, yesterday, charging Jacob Cochran with larceny by bailee. Mr. C. was the husband of Mrs. Cassingham, who died suddenly last week, an account of which we published, and he alleges that his wife, previous to her death, purchased thirty dollars worth of ladies' furnishing goods from the accused, which she neglected to take away, and that he now refuses to give them up. Cochran was arrested and held for a hearing.

Body Recovered.—The body of a drowned boy, supposed to be that of Patsey Hines, the little boy drowned some time since at the Point, was found Thursday in the Ohio river at Shippensburg, Beaver county. The Coroner of that county held an inquest and it is probable the body will be sent to the city.

Allegheny Library Association.—A meeting of the members af this Association will be held on Tuesday, 12th inst., at eight o'clock p. m., for the purpose of appointing a committee to make suitable nominations for officers, prior to the annual election on the fourth Monday of May.

Sheridan's Ride.

Mr. John J. McCormick, of this city, has received the appointment for this neighborhood of agent for the National Art Association, which has just published one of the most magnificent steel engravings ever passed through the press, entitled "Sheridan's Ride," by Sartain. We feel that it is unnecessary to edit the title of this sterling production. It is commemorative of one of the most thrilling and soul exciting incidents of the war, worked up in the colors of poesy by T. Buchanan Read, in his noble poem bearing the same name. Sheridan's ride will pass into history and a few years hence the beautiful and spirited engraving now offered to subscribers will possess an interest and value now incomprehensible. We hope none of our readers will miss the opportunity of obtaining one from Mr. McCormick.

Railway Accident Incident.

It is an actual fact that on a train of cars recently wrecked the only thing saved from damage and destruction was a large Saratoga trunk which, on close inspection, proved to contain the wardrobe of a newly married bride on her bridal tour. This trunk was examined closely, and need we say that it turned out to be one of Liebler's—everybody knows Joseph Liebler, the proprietor of the premium trunk factory, No. 104 Wood street—manufacture. It was made to stand rough handling, and it effectually accomplished that purpose. Liebler manufactures out of the best material, employs the best workmen and sells at the cheapest prices. He deals in all sorts of trunks, carpet sacks, valises, &c., &c. Give him a call for anything in his line.

Worth Knowing.—Catarrh, like a Feversore, depends upon a humoral condition of the blood; therefore, snuffs and solutions are powerless to remove it. The success of Dr. Kennedy's "Permanent Cure for Catarrh" lies in the fact that it purifies the blood, gives tone and vitality to the system, while the ulcerated membrane is cleansed and healed by soothing applications. For sale by all druggists.

Mrs. Brown's Opinion.

'Tis wond'rous how these dentists fight,
And run each other down,
And about their 'artificials' bark and bite—
'That's so,' says Mrs. Brown.

But there's one that beats them all I guess;
He knows more all around;
I mean Doc. Spencer—don't you know?
'I do', says Mrs. Brown.

His 254, Penn street, Pittsburgh,

And of him I'll get what teeth I wear—
'So will I,' says Mrs. Brown.

Be sure and don't forget the place

And want artificial eyes or teeth—
'I won't' says Mrs. Brown.

Discharged.—William Devine, committed on the 7th inst. by Alderman Lindsey for drunkenness and disorderly conduct, was discharged by order of Court yesterday, in consequence of the commitment being defective. The prosecutor's name and the time for which he was committed were omitted, and the orthography was of a very indifferent character. This is the second prisoner discharged for the same reason during the week.

Formerly thousands of dollars were expended in traveling to sunny climes, for the purpose of enjoying the balmy and fragrant breezes of floral fields. Now a bottle of Woodworth's "Flor del Espiritu Santo" saves all that trouble and expense, and imparts to the fortunate poossessor a fragrance surpassing the flowers themselves. w:s

CLIPPINGS.

A NEWSPAPER writer uses nearly a column to show that the quotation "Knowlege is Power" was suggested to Bacon by a passage in the Bible; it would be rash for anybody to steal from the Bible, but it was rasher of Bacon.

AN English officer, who managed to remain at the depot of his regiment in England during the whole of the Crimean war, has lately obtained six months' leave of absence to go and visit the graves of his brother officers who had died during the war.

THE "boring of the ears" of the King of Burmah's daughter is an occasion of great solemnity. The ceremony, as described by a recent visitor to that court, was magnificent in the extreme, and cost $500,000. We wish it cost a man that much every time he bored his friends ears in this land.

THE recent death of Mrs. Daniel Washburn, of Stow, Vt., puts the University of Vermont in possession of funds sufficient for the endowment of twelve scholarships. The money was left to the University by Dr. Washburn, twenty years ago, but was not to be paid until the death of his wife.

THE "Daeotah," another of Pullman's splendid sleeping cars has recently been turned out from the Northwestern car shops at Fond du Lac, and left the other day for New York, in company with the "Delmonico." It is understood that the two are to run together regularly between Chicago and Rochester.

A CALIFORNIA paper has this encouraging notice of a debutant: "The young man would do well enough in small roles, if he were not at a loss what to do with his arms and his legs, and had a better presence and delivery, and a slight knowledge of stage business, together with several years of professional experience."

A LITTLE GIRL, aged six years, in Massachusetts, was recently locked up in a room for a short time, for safe keeping. She became alarmed, and opening the window threw her infant brother out, and then jumped herself, a distance of fourteen feet. The boy's shoulder was dislocated, but no further injury was received by either child.

BOSTON proposes to introduce into its Fourth of July celebration this year a new feature—a sub-marine race, or walking-match under the water. The distance is a mile, from Long wharf to the Cunard wharf in East Boston, and it is proposed that three practical sub-marine divers shall enter for the race. The accounts of the divers-ion will doubtless be racy.

THE following named gentlemen have been elected as members of Congress from North Carolina: First District, John R. French; Second District, David Heaton; Third District, Gen. O. H. Dockery; Fourth District, John T. Deweese; Fifth District, Israel G. Lash; Sixth District, N. Boyden; Seventh District, A. H. Jones. All are Republicans, except Boyden.

THE Irish press is remonstrating with some reason against the degradation of the national taste, in consequence of the invasion of the "Great Vance," and his repertoire of slang songs. Moore's melodies are ill replaced, says the Nation, by "Champagne Charlie," "Not for Joe," "Jolly Dogs," and such-like cockney ditties, the music for which is invariably pirated from France.

THERE have been twenty-seven deaths thus far from the recent sad disaster on the Erie Railway, at Port Jervis. Thirteen injured persons remain at that place, all of them being expected to recover, whilst the other wounded have been conveyed to their homes. The Erie Railway Company has already settled quite a number of claims for injuries received in this accident, the amounts paid ranging from $30 as high as $10,000.

THE Archbishop of Algiers writes: "Recent disasters have reduced Ali-Ben-Kouider and his family to the most extreme want. When winter set in, famine, malesuada fames, oppressed them. After subsisting for some weeks upon grass, they seized upon a passer by, beat out his brains with a stone, and while the victim was yet warm, cut him up, salted him and buried the pieces in a hole dug in the hut. The dreadful food lasted for some time, and when it failed they seized another, and so it went on until in the course of several weeks they had killed and eaten five men. Finally, they cut the throat of nephew who lived with them, and devoured one of their own children. Their other two children were destined to the same lot, but when the knife was at the very throat of the youngest Zohra, she escaped and told the horrible tale. The mother confessed at once, but the father, in spite of the most positive proof, still continues to deny the whole."

A NEW PRESS.—A Paris correspondent writes as follows:

Rapidity of printing has just been carried out in France to a degree far exceeding anything which has been accomplished in machine work, and outstripping the famous American machines, which were supposed to have realized everything attainable in the way of speed. M. Marioni has put up in the printing office of the Petit Journal, (a one cent daily paper), a marvelous machine of his invention, which prints 600 copies a minute. Four of these powerful machines turn out 144,000 copies an hour, the whole impression being 446,000 daily.

THOMAS' orchestra, in New York, recently performed Haydn's "Departure" Symphony, in which every instrumentalist executes a droll bit of farce, by "playing himself out" of the orchestra, which was finally reduced to one violin and the director. The audience relished the joke quite as much as history tells us the Prince Esterhazy did, for whom it was written, as a genuine protest against the prevailing fashion of cutting down the composer's forces.

DR. WM. CLENDENIN has been re-elected health officer of Cincinnati, for the ensuing year at a salary of $3,000. His services in ridding the city of nuisances have been of incalculable value, and have increased the value of property in the bone-boiling districts of the city fully sixty per cent. This fact was developed during a recent investigation of a nuisance case in one of the upper courts.
